Profile

I am a highly skilled Front-end Developer with expertise in the latest front-end technologies and advanced knowledge of interface design. I have a passion for coding and creating usable, aesthetically appealing websites or applications, and I have successfully developed numerous projects, both independently and as part of teams. My goal is to contribute to dynamic development teams, where I can share my ideas, learn from other professionals, and collaborate for the best possible outcomes.

Work Experience

Front-end Developer

Webnerds (2021 – 2023)

As a Front-end Developer, I adeptly crafted websites and e-shops, ensuring compatibility across browsers and devices. Proficient in HTML, CSS, jQuery, JavaScript, WordPress, and OpenCart, I optimized website performance for an exceptional user experience.

Front-end Developer

Progressive Robotics (2023 – Now)

As the sole Front-end Developer, I play a pivotal role in spearheading the design and management of the entire front-end ecosystem for our cutting-edge application, which revolves around the precise control of robotic arms.
